

WHY HANDS ON?

At just $3 per student, Hands On is an affordable way to enrich your third and fourth graders' learning experience. Temple & Belton ISDs are prepaid.

With music and movement, theatre, visual arts and museum components, Hands On is a one-stop arts education field trip.

Each year, Hands On focuses on a different culture, making it a great social studies lesson as well.

Hands On has been educating and entertaining over 2,400 local students each year since 1974.

Small groups and lots of volunteers ensure that all children are able to participate fully in each part of the field trip.

Unlike other arts and culture field trips, Hands On is truly hands-on. Students create an art project, participate in an onstage production, and dance to traditional music and visit an art gallery and a mini-museum full of artifacts.

HANDS-ON 2009

THE CONTEMPORARIES OF THE CAC PRESENT ...

Alaska

ALL ABOARD FOR AN ALASKAN ADVENTURE

Pack your parkas and your snowshoes and get ready for this year's adventure when Hands On 2009 explores the many wonders of Alaska during September and October.

Journey through exciting activities guided by volunteers from The CAC Contemporaries who will lead 100 students, in groups of 25, through each of four segments:

Walk Like An Eskimo: Students will follow the lead of docents demonstrating indigenous music and movement reflecting native traditions from the 49th State.

Act Like A Native: Use props and learn theatrical cues to participate in the dramatic presentation of an interactive folk tale onstage.

Get Your Souvenir: Explore ethnic art forms and create a special, take-home souvenir to remind students of their "travels."

See Alaskan Treasures: Learn more about our northernmost neighbors by viewing art and artifacts showcasing Alaskan culture in the Carabasi Gallery.

Legend tells of many great adventures to be had at Hands On and this expedition will be filled with many great activities! Don't miss it!
